

Celebrate a Wholesome Christmas with The Linda McCartney Range

Around this time of year thoughts inevitably turn to family, celebration and coming together. Plans for gatherings of friends and loved ones are made, and days are filled with preparations and parties. The Linda McCartney range was originally created from a love of home, family, friends and the shared pleasure that good food can bring – and so the traditions and rituals of Christmas offer the perfect opportunity to enjoy our wholesome food.

The Linda McCartney range of honest, traditional and warming dishes is the perfect seasonal food to get you through the festive period. What's more, our convenient range presents all kinds of benefits for this busy time of year; from traditional get-togethers to impromptu gatherings and quick fix meals, you really needn't look much further for satisfying and simple food.

If all the family are gathered around the table serve them Linda McCartney's Vegetarian Lasagne. It's the perfect comfort food with layers of free-range egg pasta, soya mince ragu and rich béchamel sauce topped with real cheddar cheese. How about a doorstep Linda McCartney sausage sandwich with wholegrain mustard between thick chunks of bread for an impromptu winter warmer? And deep filled Country Pies with soya mince in a rich onion gravy and flaky pastry served with creamy mashed potato and winter vegetables would surely satisfy even the most eclectic group of Christmas guests.

There are plenty of choices for party fare too; a piping hot Cumberland-style Vegetarian Sausage Roll served with drinks, or vegetarian Cornish Pasties washed down with real ale should raise even flagging festive spirits. As we remain true to the spirit originally instilled in the range by Linda herself you know that as much love and attention has been put into the new Linda McCartney range as anything that you prepare at home.

Christmas is all about caring. The Linda McCartney range offers the opportunity to look after those you care about most with wholesome, hearty seasonal food that is comforting and, happily for you too, effortless and convenient.

Heartfelt Seasons Greetings and a Merry Christmas.
